

This week's Learning

Week beginning 25/05/20

This is an overview of the learning for the week

Here is an overview of what your week may look like, feel free to do some or all of what is here. It is entirely up to you. I would like to try and touch base with us all at least once a week via google meet or on the daily morning post. So please ensure you are trying to do at least one of those.

I am trying to stick to routine and what we know so please make sure you are tuning in at some point across the week to the activities so that you still feel part of the class. Please remember that all of this is just a guide and I am not expecting you to do it all.

Talent show acts in by Friday if you are keen to take part.

Here's to another week!
